It all comes together here.
Prepare to be amazed

At the University of Pittsburgh, you have access to world-class academic programs. Our faculty are at the cutting-edge in their fields and invite undergraduate students to work with them on mind-blowing research projects. You’ll study on a park-like campus in a vibrant, energetic urban neighborhood—surrounded by (guaranteed) internship opportunities at globally-recognized organizations and corporations. Our student body is smart, open-minded, and ambitious. If you think that you can't get everything you want out of a college experience, Pitt is happy to prove otherwise.

Our reputation speaks for itself. But others chime in, too.

Dive into Game of Thrones and political theory with Andrew Lotz, a Pitt Lecturer, Academic Advisor, and Assistant Dean for Undergraduate Studies.
